Dr. N. M. Hancock, of Cane Valley, made a lucky find last Monday morning. Fourteen years ago he was wearing a plain gold ring which had been given him by his mother two years previous and just before her death. One morning while at his stable, holding his horse by the bridle reins, the animal made a quick jerk, and the ring was thrown from his finger. For fourteen years he had his stable cleaned at frequent intervals, hoping to find the ring, but was not rewarded until last Monday morning. The doctor was greatly rejoiced, as he prized the treasure very sacred, a gift from his dead mother.

DIED.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnston, an old and highly respected lady of this section, died last Wednesday at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. A. I. Hurt. She had been in declining health for quite awhile and her death was not unexpected. She was the widow of the late John Walter Johnston, who was a prominent citizen of this county. She deceased leaves several children, Mr. S. D. Johnston, of Marietta, Ark., being one of the number, and who reached here a few hours after his mother had passed away.

I have three yearling steers for sale. Good stock. All red.

To the citizens of Adair county: The undersigned are in the tombstone business at Campbellville, Ky. Campbellville is your neighbor, and as you have no manufacturer of this work in Columbia, would it not be to your interest to patronize us? We guarantee satisfaction both in quality of work and prices. We solicit work from Adair and adjoining counties.

COAKLEY & SIMS BROS.

A series of meetings are now in progress at the Milltown Methodist church, conducted by Rev. F. E. Lewis, assisted by Rev. W. A. Grant. Rev. Lewis closed a very successful meeting at Neatsburg last Sunday. There were 15 additions to the church.

A sudden death occurred near Cane Valley last Monday. The wife of Mr. Richard Balt was eating an apple when she became choked, dying in a very short time.

Mr. M. Roy Yarberry made a speech to a fair sized crowd in the court-house Monday afternoon in the interest of W. G. H. Hunt.

Mr. Yarberry reviewed the troubles of the Middleboro convention, of the campaign and contest, and accepting his statements a good part of the Republican party is indeed vile and unreliable. Col. L. T. Neat followed in a brief but plain speech in which he showed his lack of confidence in W. G. H. Hunt. It seemed to be just a telling on each crowd, and if both sides are as represented then all we have to say is, Gosh, it's terrible.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Bro. Oliver C. Morrison, who was a native of Adair county, and who left here one year ago for the West, died in Fannin county, Texas, July 13, 1904. He had been a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church forty years, and a Mason over fifty years. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, as Masons, humbly commend his spirit to God and we give it, and reverently bow our heads in submission to His holy will.

Resolved, That we, the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

3d. That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the records of this lodge and a copy tendered his family.

4th. That a copy of these resolutions be presented to The Adair County News and Columbia Spectator for publication.

CANEY FORK.

The long dry spell that prevailed over this section has been broken and now abundant rains are giving bright prospects for abundant crops of all kinds. The wheat and oat crops are being threshed and are a good yield.

Hops are plentiful. Stock of all kinds in fine shape, while farmers are in a high state of rejoicing.

Mrs. Rola, Bridgewater, of near Camp Knox, is very busy with laundry and householding.

Miss Hattie Cundiff, daughter of Perry Cundiff, formerly of Cane Valley, is teaching our school. Good attendance and good work is reported.

Quite a number of our citizens attended the Sunday-school convention at Ebenezer on the 25th.

The prospects for a railroad connecting Columbia with the outside world meets with the hearty approval of every person in this section. Every effort should be put forth to secure this road. We are also rejoicing that Columbia is to have a fair. This beautiful inland town not only holds her own and is the center of attraction for all this section of the country, but is fast forging its way to the front.

J. O. Haskins and wife, J. T. Poore, wife and little daughter, of Bowling Green, are visiting friends and relatives in Green and Taylor counties. They will spend several weeks around their old home near Camp Knox.

We trust that the News and Spectator will stir up an interest in the development of Adair and Green counties as a part of the oil field of Kentucky. There is no doubt, but that the geological formations and psychological conditions for Adair and Green counties are an oil producing territory are as good as that of Cumberland and Knox counties and speculators seeking investment for capital are losing time and money in not opening up a field here.

TIME TO KILL 'EM.

It may not be generally known, but nevertheless it is a fact that there is a certain time in each year when trees, shrubs and many weeds can be killed with very little effort on the part of the farmer. Perhaps it may be a condition of the day at this particular period which renders external interference so fatal to them, and, perhaps it may be something of a chemical nature. However, they die from wounds which at other periods would be scarcely perceptible. I have known trees to be killed by having a single nail driven in them.

Moreover, at this crisis, if a tree is killed, its leaves will wither in a short time after dropping leaves, and weeds in the morning will be thoroughly withered before sunset. The 14th day of August is the day of all days for destroying troublesome trees and weeds. Let every farmer get this date down.

BRAIN LEAKS.

The broader the smile the shorter the task.

Everything is for the best, even the worst of it.

A smile will go a mile while a frown is going a furlong.

The "sanest fourth" was where it rained the hardest.

Ever notice how long the day is when you start it off grumbling?

We'd like to go fishing just once when only the little fish got away.

It is a waste of time to pray for what you want unless you really need it.

There are three epochs in a man's life—the day he catches his first fish, the day he hears the wall of his first barn, and the day he realizes the significance of today.

A man never knows how much work a woman has to do until his wife goes away for a couple of weeks and he undertakes to straighten up the house the day before she returns.

The man who never makes mistakes is the man who never undertakes anything.

When a man begins to wonder if he looks as old as he really is, it is a sign that he does.

The writers of the best old songs are dead. The writers of some of the new ones ought to be.

The man who never ate watermelon save with a fork has an awfully good time coming to him.

The men who talk loudest about the necessity of war are generally the men who stay at home and finance it.

We will probably never have enough money to enable us to set aside a barnful, and even if we do have enough we couldn't do it. We'll set aside a fund to reward the girls who bake better bread than their mothers.

If there were no weeds to interfere with the garden perhaps we wouldn't enjoy eating the vegetables so much.

We are inclined to believe that the hardest work we could do would be to make some men think is having a good time.

The greatest bore in town is the man who insists on telling you his troubles when you want to tell him your own.

Nearly every man would like to have a job that would permit him to get up whenever he pleased in the morning to begin it.

We have often wondered why some corporations did not try obeying the law just to see if it wasn't cheaper than hiring costly lawyers to fight it.

What has become of the sweet old grandmother who could remember when tomatoes were called "love apples" and every body thought they were poison?

SNOWFLAKE PHILOSOPHY.

We sometimes think it is foolish to worry over trying not to worry.

We can't imagine a more dangerous combination than a loose tongue and ignorance.

A man who will submit to being imposed upon by his kin can be worked by a book agent.

If we are invited to a party, attend or give a mighty good excuse, unless you can stand being teased.

The average housekeeper's idea of hell is a place where she will have to wash dishes forever and ever.

A girl misses her mother when she dies, but she doesn't fully appreciate what the loss really means until her father acts like marrying again.

"No wonder people hate you," writes a subscriber to the editor, "you are always saying things." We say those things to make people love us. That's where we lack judgment.

If a daughter of the house goes riding in a rubber-tired rig with a nice young man the neighbors don't happen to see it, but does any one imagine they wouldn't see it if the patrol wagon were to call?

At the present time only three states—Montana, Nevada and Wyoming, and three territories—Alaska, Arizona, and New Mexico, are from the English sparrow. This winged monopolist has found its way into Utah. It is noted that the more ornithological bulletins there are published against it, the more it spreads and increases. It also thrives on poison and traps increases.

For President,
ALTON B. PARKER,

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

We are authorized to announce that Hon. L. H. THURMAN, of Washington, residing in a candidate for Circuit Judge in the district comprising the counties of Green, Taylor, Marion and Washington, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Democrats of the 11th Congressional district of Kentucky will meet in their respective counties in mass convention on Saturday, August 20th 1904, and select delegates to attend the district convention to be held at Somerset, Ky. on August 25th, 1904, called for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate for Congress, to be voted for at the November election, 1904.

J. F. HORN, Chairman

There was a very harmonious meeting of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committees at Frankfort last week Percy Haly was re-elected Secretary, resolutions were adopted congratulating the national Democracy upon the selection of its ticket and pledging for Kentucky an old time majority. A campaign committee was selected and State Auditor Hager named as Chairman. The names of a number of prominent Democrats were recommended to Governor Beckham for the selection of a State Election Commission.

Ex-President Cleveland, ex-United States Senators, Carlisle and Lindsey and Mr. Bryan all speaking for the Democratic national ticket, looked a little like harmony. The Democratic party was never in better shape and no one knows this better than the Republican party.

The Republican primary will be pulled off in the Eleventh district next Tuesday. The friends of both Edwards and Hunter say they are confident. Edwards claims his election by 2,000 majority and Hunter says he will have a walk-over.

Paul Kruger, Oom Paul, that noble old Boer, who witnessed the death of the South African Republic, has gone to his eternal camping ground.

Tom Taggart has no equal as an organizer, and will make the effort of his life to carry Indiana for Parker. He says that with the 20,000 gold Democrats who have come back to the party he is certain to land Indiana into the Parker column.

When a Republican paper or speaker asserts that there is not enough intelligence in the Democratic party to entrust it with the steering of the Old Ship of State, such a declaration is astounding and truly indicates the shallowness of the declaimer.

Custer Gardner, who murdered "Squire D. Osborne and his son, Dave, and wounded John Bennett and Will Gardner, was hanged at Munfordsville last Wednesday. The terrible crime was committed last November.

Old Kentucky Democracy stands united, no division on national issues, no strife and dissension in local affairs. Her youthful vigor restored, the old time majority is inevitable.

It's Parker against Roosevelt, the East against the West, and when the struggle is over Teddy can write another book.

Rosemont, the home of Judge Parker, is attracting as many visitors as any similar place in the entire history of our country.

In the face of disastrous strikes Republican journals still preach prosperity.

GRADYVILLE

Mrs. S. Asper, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Logan Sherill, near Milltown.

Sam Henry, of Louisville, was here Friday on business.

Misses Kate Walker and Clara Wilmore attended the Sunday School Convention at Columbia Saturday.

L. C. Hindman and family visited in Columbia Saturday.

S. D. Caldwell, of Portland, was here Friday.

Mrs. J. D. Walker, who has been in bed for several months, is about well.

As the time for the primary draws closer it becomes interesting and we find that it is not going to be all one way in this precinct. Edwards and Hunter men, both claim a majority.

C. S. Walkup and wife were called to Denmark Thursday to see their mother, who is sick.

Rev. C. R. Payne and Prof. Frogge, passed through here last week en route for Summer Shade, where they spent several days in the interest of the school.

N. H. Moss and daughter are visiting relatives in Green and Hart counties.

Mrs. Wm Pickett, of Pickett, spent several days of last week with relatives here.

J. A. Diddle spent Saturday at Sulphur Well and reports a large crowd there.

H. A. Walker, of Columbia, was here Friday looking after lumber.

Mrs. H. C. Walker was on the sick list last week.

Heck Judd, of Columbia, was here Thursday on business.

C. W. Sparks, who has been confined to his room with heart trouble, has recovered.

Jo N. Conover, of Columbia, spent a day near here last week looking after the school.

Mrs. S. Asper lost a fine milk cow last week.

Prof. R. L. Campbell, of Breeding, spent Saturday night with Will Hill.

W. L. Grady spent last week in Campbellville shipping lumber to Cincinnati; also sold H. A. Walker, of Columbia, a large amount of building lumber.

Mr. Sam McCaffree visited the family of J. J. Hunter Thursday night. Mr. McCaffree will go to the Lone Star State in a few days to live.

H. C. Walker and daughter and Prof. G. B. Yates attended the Sunday School Convention at Columbia Saturday.

will weigh 1,100 each, good color and fat.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, Miss Allena Sneed, to Mr. Rufus Crawborn. Rev. Wm. Wooten officiated on the 29th.

Several of our society people attended the social given by Miss Della Mitchell Saturday night. All report a good time.

We have heard a great deal complaint from our citizens about losing chickens, and this all takes place after the curtains of night are drawn around us.

S. E. Walker, of Nell, was with us Friday and stated that the growing crops were never better in his place.

Miss Beauchamp, in company of Rev. Will Thomas, of Edmonston, passed through here Thursday en route for Columbia.

A tree was struck by lightning Tuesday on the farm of Mrs. A. A. Hoy, at or near the place where a barn of tobacco was destroyed by lightning several months ago.

J. J. Hunter and wife attended the entertainment at Columbia last week, and his wife and children last week, who have been visiting here several weeks.

Mr. Leonard Dohoney, the efficient salesman of Grady & Kemp, visited his parents Saturday night.

Mr. Brass Edwards and wife, Greensburg, visited the family of J. F. Pendleton Saturday night and Sunday.

Geo. H. Nell's new dwelling will be completed in a few days. It certainly is a commodious building.

Jake Fesse and Henry Lewis, of Columbia, made our town last week in the interest of produce.

YOSEMITE

Coulter & Wells' stove jointer is running.

Mrs. Walter Cooch, of Indianapolis, with her children, arrived here Monday, a few hours subsequent to the death of her father, Mr. W. T. Sharp.

There will be a protracted meeting at the Middleburg Baptist church, beginning about the 3rd Sunday in August. Rev. T. H. Coleman will conduct the services, but will be assisted by Rev. J. L. Owens.

The Republican primary is warming up somewhat. It has been said all along that Parker was a tool in the hands of Edwards to defeat Hunter, and Parker having quit the race, looks like there is something in it. Let 'em fight it out, if it takes all summer.

The question as to whether Katie did or didn't is being agitated in the tree just now, and the dispute will be kept up until about October 17th, when Jack frost will likely put an end to the controversy. I am talking about the Katy did now.

J. B. Wesley, of Bethelridge, was here last week repairing the telephone line. Bruce is an expert at the business and his services are much sought after.

Hon. Godfrey Hunter did not show up at his appointment to speak at Middleburg on the 21st. So anxious were people to hear the gun show statesman, that a number of Democrats were there to hear him.

In our article concerning the debate between Bro. Ferrell, and Fitzwater, you types made us say "friend" instead of "point," thus spelling the meaning.

The hay season is about over and the crop is the best I have ever seen. There are over 300 stacks within a radius of less than two miles of this place.

W. T. Sharp died at his home one half mile west of town July 24th, 1894. Deceased was 66 years of age, and was one of the cleverest men I ever knew.

He went about his business quietly, and interfered with that of no one else. He leaves a wife, and five children to mourn the loss of a kind husband, a loving father. His popularity as a citizen was attested by the large concourse of friends and neighbors that attended his funeral, and followed his body to its last resting place.

Rev. G. W. Montgomery preached a most beautiful funeral discourse at the Christian church of which Mr. Sharp was a member, after which the body found a last resting place in the cemetery adjoining the church. A good man is gone, and the world is made poorer but heaven richer in consequence thereof.

We are informed that the County Judge has given notice that any one using "push" on dogs will be prosecuted under the law provided. It is a new practice for sport, and in our judgment should have been checked long ago. We have been told that the dog does not mind the high reputation of the judge, but that he is put on his back he immediately sets up a terrible howl and goes a rapid gait. The law includes such as cruelty to animals and provides a fine that will interest any one who desires to pay for such sport. The Judge is right and we hope his warning will be heeded.

The will of Mr. Wm. Stewart was probated last Monday. He leaves all his property, of every description, to his sister, Miss Sallie Stewart.

Last Friday afternoon while Miss Amanda Morrison was out driving with her little sister and little brother, the horse became frightened, jumped, and threw her brother from the vehicle, lighting him on the head with the foot. WHAT A DIFFERENCE IN PROFESSION!

The Lawyer and Physician prescribe and receive fees while the Newspaper men give prescriptions without money or price. The Physician is generally present when your eyes are closed in death. The Lawyer is ready to "wind-up" your estate, but both must be paid. The Newspaper man attends the funeral, writes the obituary in glowing language, pointing to your good traits, your success and mentions your family connections and does not ask a cent but generally receives an order from some member of the family to send seven-teen copies at his own expense to distant relatives. The Doctor is called to relieve your pain; the lawyer to protect you in your legal rights and fees commensurate for service are put up. The man who uses the pen to the pen to the cue of your county, your home, your good name and yet don't get a chew of "natural leaf."

ENTERTAINMENT.

An entertainment that did much credit to the performers and was highly enjoyed by a large audience, was given at the Christian church Tuesday evening of last week. At the time there were a number of students of Madison Institute visiting in Columbia and Saturday afternoon before, at the suggestion of Prof. J. W. McGarvey, who was the principal of the school, it was decided to entertain on said date, giving a musical.

There were eight or ten performers, nearly all of whom had been under the tutelage of Miss Mattie Taylor. The instruments were guitars, mandolins, clarinet, violin, cornet, flute and piano. All the class are scientific, and the selections furnished were of the higher class, not a discordant note detected during the evening. In testimony of the high appreciation of the evening's enjoyment, every body spoke of the entertainment in the most flattering language. This array of talent is about the best advertisement Madison Institute could send out. Besides the music Miss Bertha Rodgers, of Dixon, Tenn., Miss Nina Marcum and Miss Mary Myers, of this place, recited beautifully. The following is a full list of the musicians: Prof. J. W. McGarvey, Earl McGarvey, John Ballard, Roy McGarvey, Fannie Jones, Dimple Conover, Pearl Lovelace, Lella Rodgers, Julia Stephenson, Cary Hughes and Mattie Taylor.

The Columbia Mill Company bought the Lancaster Mill of Lebanon last month for $15,000. A few are informed that this is one of the best mills in Southern Kentucky. Its capacity for flour, 200 barrels and for meal 300. Mr. G. W. Robertson will take charge of it on the 10th. It is a good mill in the hands of good men and we predict that the Lebanon people will be pleased with the new management.

Last Friday afternoon while Miss Amanda Morrison was out driving with her little sister and little brother, the horse became frightened, jumped, and threw her brother from the vehicle, lighting him on the head with the foot. The screaming of the child was alarming, but fortunately he only received slight injuries.

A WISE CHOICE

The unanimous selection of Thomas Taggart for the Chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee is not only a deserved recognition of the large part he played in making Judge Parker's nomination possible by instructing the delegates of Indiana for him at a critical period in his political fortunes, but it is the expression of the common belief among Democratic leaders that the State can be redeemed from Republicanism.

With the exception of the two elections in which Mr. Taggart was handicapped by the antagonism of the solid gold Democratic vote, he has never failed of success in any political contest in which he has entered. No other man in Indiana has so keen an insight into and firm a grasp of the peculiar political conditions existing there. It may be urged against him that he is a practical politician, but only various practical policies is the only variety known to Hoosierdom. With a liberal campaign fund, with lieutenants bound to him by close ties of personal liking with an acquaintance covering the entire State, with a thorough knowledge of the game, and with the renewed support of 20,000 former gold Democrats, Mr. Taggart has more than an even chance to perform successfully the task allotted to him. And an even chance is all that he has ever asked.

His election will serve to unite the Democrats of the Central West with those of the East, and will increase Democratic chances in Wisconsin as well as Indiana, two States which will play a vital part in determining the outcome of the campaign. Mr. Taggart will strengthen the party where most it has need of strength. Mr. Sheehan, as chairman of the Executive Committee, may safely be intrusted with the duty of bringing New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Delaware into line. The Solid South, including Maryland and West Virginia, will look after itself.—Louisville Times.

EGGS BY WEIGHT

There is a movement on foot among produce dealers to adopt the plan which is in use in many parts of the world for selling eggs by weight. The unfairness of the present method is more apparent than real. If a housewife were to buy by the pound instead of the dozen she would doubtless receive one or two less for the same expenditure unless the eggs were very large. But she would undoubtedly receive the same amount of nutriment, perhaps a little more.

It is reported that the princelings of Prussia have been petitioned to have eggs sold in the future by weight instead of number. The claim is that the German eggs are much heavier and larger than eggs imported from neighboring countries, and, while there may be some slight advantage in the price, it is disproportionate to the actual nutriment contained in the German egg.

The lightest of the German eggs weigh more than the heaviest of the imported eggs, so it seems unfair that they should sell at equal price per dozen.

GROWTH OF THE SOUTH

The wealth of the South today with its population of 25,000,000 is equal to the wealth of the United States with its 31,000,000 in 1860. The South is now mining six times as much bituminous coal as the United States mined in 1860, it is making six times as much pig iron, its output of oil is eighty times as great as that of the whole country then, its lumber output is more than double, its railroad mileage is twice as great, and its total wealth is over $16,000,000,000, against $10,100,000,000 for the whole country in 1860.

This is indeed a brilliant showing. When it is remembered how pitiful was the condition of the South at the close of the civil war, how poor it was, how stripped it was of everything that makes for progress, it is marvellous that such a recovery could have been made in the forty years which have elapsed since the closing of the struggle, that to day it may be said that the South is as great in wealth and prosperity as the entire United States was before the commencement of the civil war. Marvellous as these results are still greater things will be accomplished in the next decade. The building of the great organic canal being assured the South is preparing to reap the greatest harvest of its construction. Pensacola, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston are destined to become the great ports of the country. The middle west and the north west will pour its grain, its canned goods, its meats and manufactured products to the Southern ports instead of to New York, Boston and other Eastern ports. The South will manufacture its own cottons and ship its surplus direct to foreign countries. The wonderful development of the South since the war is but a marker compared to the area of prosperity and development which is now stretching out before it in the immediate future.—E. Town News.

MORE FOLKS NEEDED.

If honesty prevailed there would be no grafting. Unfair if not dishonest distribution of the public funds, strange to say, is often made by a Christian by a representative of the public funds, for the purpose of maintaining the ring machine. Or in other words the ring must be kept in perfect working order, even if public conscience be outraged and private honor smirched.

The man pure in his social relations, a Christian in the sense of being prominent in denominational religion, the soul of honor in commercial transactions with the customers, a good man and citizen in all those ways simply, and yet may go on record as giving his official power to promote a graft.

This process has obtained public approval by a preponderance of political power. Where the political parties are more equally divided, if the voters were alive to the true and sacred duties of citizenship then these public officers would not mar the honor of civic life.

Civic dishonesty has permeated and the majority of cases controls the municipalities of the nation and is not confined to any one political party.

The love of money is the ruling passion of mankind, as it was in the civilization that produced a Paul.

Civic dishonesty with a cloak of party politics backed by party organization, has been marching on for years, growing in power and audacious performance, until the safety of government demands a reform.

There is but one way to check this growing evil and that is to elect a higher class of men to office. There ever was a more or less moral standing to accept office. Men who have to make personal sacrifices to serve their country. Men whose honesty is proverbial when they are best known and whose moral courage is unquestioned. Just now every State and nearly every municipality needs a man like Joseph Wingate Folk.

He would be worth more than a thousand spell binders or good fellows. The public looks again at the corruption of Missouri simply because that State has produced one honest, fearless man in public life who has brought it to light. The same state of affairs exists to a greater or less extent in the rest of the country, the only difference is that the other cities and States have a Folk.—E. Town News.

WHAT ARE WE TO DO?

What are we to do? Disease germs are in water, wine, whiskey, beer, older milk and whatever we drink from thirst or pleasure. They are in bread, meats, fruits, vegetables, sugar, honey, molasses and whatever we eat from hunger or delight. So say scientists. Our fathers and mothers knew something of these germ destroyers of health, happiness and life, so they ate, drank and made more to a good, peaceful old age. But we know and fear to eat, drink or sleep, for they are in the air we breathe, in the sunlight that warms our blood and in the darkness that chills our body. Some people know too much, or make believe they do; some people know too little, or think they do. Such a man, possibly woman also, a mass of pretensions, high or low.

ONE ON OLLIE JAMES.

A story about Ollie James which has never been printed was told the other day at Seibel's Hotel, where a crowd of Kentucky politicians were discussing the various statements of the bluegrass and Panhandle.

"I took my little son to town one day last fall to hear Ollie James and Gov. Beckham speak," said a man from Harrodsburg, "and the boy was greatly impressed by Mr. James' side. When the speaking was over I went up to shake hands with Mr. James and my little boy followed along. Mr. James patted him on the head and said something about another good democrat growing up, and the boy was very much pleased to have been shown the attention."

At Sunday school a few days after the speaking the teacher was telling the boys and girls about how God made the world in seven days.

"How big is God asked my little boy. The teacher was at a loss for a reply, and before she answered the boy said, 'Well do you suppose he is as Ollie James'?"

AS TO COWARDICE.

Atlanta Constitution: A good many Republican organs are endeavoring to raise an issue of "cowardice" against the Democrats because, recognizing that the money question is in so sense an issue in this campaign, the St. Louis platform makers decided to omit reference to it.

What did the cowardice of the Republicans, who dodged at Chicago one of the liveliest issues that now confronts the American people, and one in which they are manifesting great and rapidly increasing cowardice?

What did the Republican platform have to say about the future disposition of the Philippine Islands? Not one word. Most of the Republican leaders, held in office as they are by the interests that favor the holding of the islands for the purposes of exploitation, would, if they had to submit to the test, declare for permanent retention as colonies; but they well know that the masses of the people of this country cling to the idea that there should be colonies under the flag of the country which had its birth in a revolt against colonialism, and they do not dare put the question to the test.

It was fear—nothing else—that kept out of the Republican national platform a declaration on the Philippine question. If it was "cowardice" in the Democratic to omit reference to a dead issue, it is not infinitely more cowardly in the Republicans to avoid all mention of an issue which is decidedly live?

DOES AN EDUCATION PAY?

Does it pay an acorn to become an oak? Does it pay to escape being a rich ignoramus? Does it pay to fit one's self for a superior position? Does it pay to get a glimpse of the joy of living?

Does it pay the chrysalis to unfold into the butterfly? Does it pay to learn to make life a glory instead of a grind? Does it pay to learn to open a little wider the door of a narrow life? Does it pay to add power to the lens of the microscope or the telescope.

Does it pay to know how to take the dry, dreary drudgery out of life? Does it pay to taste the exhilaration of feeling one's powers unfold? Does it pay a rubied to open its petals and fling out its beauty to the world?

Does it pay to push one's horizon farther out in order to get a wider outlook, a clearer vision? Does it pay to learn how to center thought with power, how to marshal one's mental forces effectively?

Does it pay to acquire a character—wealth, a soul-property which no disaster or misfortune can wreck or ruin? Does it pay to have expert advice and training, to have high ideals held up to one in the most critical years of life?

Does it pay to make life-long friendships with bright, ambitious, young people many of whom will occupy high places later on?

Does it pay to become familiar with all the lessons that history and science can teach as to how to make life healthy and successful?

Does it pay to become an enlightened citizen, able to see through the sophistries of political claptrap and vote intelligently on public matters?

Does it pay to change a bar of rough pig iron into hairpins for watches, thus increasing its worth to more than fifty times the value of its weight in gold?

Does it pay to experience the joy of self-reliance, to open up whole continents of possibilities in one's nature which might otherwise remain undisturbed?—Orison Sweet Marden, in Success.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Twenty years ago, while at work in his field, Mr. Isaac Catlett, of the Tanner neighborhood, was bitten by a large spider and ever since he has had annual periods of intense suffering from wounds inflicted by the distinctive but poisonous animal.

At the time of the injury Mr. Catlett was in his field binding oats. He felt a sharp sting on the lower part of his body and upon investigation he found that a spider, known as the "bottle variety," had bitten him. Hurrying to his home, he hastily called for whiskey but before the stimulant could take effect he was almost in convulsions from pain, and the bite came near causing his death. The accident happened at noon on the 27th day of June, and every year since then at the very hour on the same day of the month Mr. Catlett has a return of the poisonous effects and has had the same intense suffering, lasting for several days. The only thing that has any effect to quiet the pain is whiskey and every year, just before the time for the return of the affliction, Mr. Catlett, anticipating the result, is forced to work to take whiskey to counteract the effects of the poison.

This remarkable incident has had medical science and physicians say that it is the first case of the kind on record, and Mr. Catlett's story of his affliction gets but little credence until one is at his bedside when the annual attacks occur and witness the terrible agony he endures.—Lancet County Herald.

S. P. McCalmont, an eccentric millionaire who died at Franklin, Pa., devised a way to prevent insurance among his heirs. His will just filed excluded as beneficiaries any child who indulges in the use of liquor, tobacco or narcotic drugs. The entire estate goes into the hands of the executor, who shall manage it and divide annually the proceeds among only such children as do not use tobacco, liquor or narcotic drugs in any form or in any quantity. Any member of the family who uses any of these three things may become a beneficiary in the estate by abstaining from the use for a period of a year. If the beneficiary returns to his former habits, however, he or she is cut off.
